VERNON VERONA SHERRILL CENTRAL SCHOOL

FOREWORD

Well, here I am at last! I never thought I'd make it. After the staff tore out most of their hair, they finally assembled me. I've traveled miles by bus, station-wagon, and all the letter routes trying to get to you.

My name has caused fist fights. Votes, votes, and revotes have decided what should go in me; that senior class! This night life has been as bad for me as it has for the staff. I understand a lot of adults have put time and money into my completion, too.

In spite of all this confusion, I pride myself on being one of the first projects of our united school, a pictorial record of our first year in centralization.

DEDICATION

The students of the V.V.S.C.S. gratefully acknowledge the unselfish devotion of the Board of Education in developing and directing the organization of the new school district and hereby dedicate this, the first issue of the Sheveron, to the members of the Board of Education.

Class Poem

We are the first. To us it has been given
To go before, to break the path and lead
The way for others who come after us.
We are the first Senior class. We have
Laid aside the old and started new traditions.

We have had our strifes among ourselves,
But faced the world together as a class,
As a school. We have worked and played
And laughed and loved together, and cheered
Together and fought our rivals as a team,
As a school.

We are the first. After us will come
So many, many more, to cherish
Our traditions and all that we hold dear--
One school, a trinity inseparable.

And as we have each of us yielded
Some to the other, and argued and still solved
Things peacefully, gaining in one way
What we lost in another, and finally, we hope,
To see one school, with spirit proud and loyal--
So might the whole world do as we have done
And still must do, and we may one day see
A world united all in peace.

--Jessie Paquette

Eselma Bohrer is struggling with the intricacies of homemaking, first hand.
Howard Breckenridge is a big league basketball player now.
The telephone poles dodge yet when Mary Brown drives by.
Donna Campbell is driving again this year in the powder-puff derby.
John Chamberlain flies to his barber shop every morning in his helicopter.

Anne Drummond is a rising young stenographer in a large business firm.
Imogene Elmer is entranced more than ever by romantic scenes. Good luck!
Anne Flanagan is traveling all over the United States with her Dick.
Pete Frank's oil burners are now well known from coast to coast. (I didn't say for what!)
Al Graves is running for the City Council. He learned quickly didn't he?
Icy roads never deter Elinor Halstead any more; rain, sleet, or shine--the show must go on.
Marian Highers runs the "Lovely Mess" beauty salon.
Bea Hopkins runs the "Gooey Candy Store" in New London.
Dawn Jackson is still in San Francisco waiting for a ship from Korea.

Jim Montgomery has developed into quite a ladies man since his sojourn in this country.
John Morgan runs "Morgan's Pet Shop", dealing mostly in poodles and fish.
Clarinda Noble is a promising young teacher at Morrisville.
In spite of Cot Orton's optimistic statement in English class, I'm afraid his and John Black's political conversation would disprove it.
Jessie Paquette now has a fiancee in every state of the union.
Tim Parker now owns a gas station; heaven help the customers.
Pat Peabody wears her new nurses uniform very well.
Peggy Reames is putting twenty kindergarteners to sleep for their naps.

Eugene Smith realizes the folly of his ingenious remarks in history class now; he's a teacher.
Be prepared for anything; Mary Sweeney's been to Syracuse again!
Warner Thayer's law office is doing very well lately. He now has three stenographers. (All blond)
Alice Walter, the old-maid librarian, is still reading her books.
Clara Watson runs the Watson half of the "Watson-Seibel Culture Studio". Clara gives instructions on how to get your man and---
Gail Seibel gives lessons on how to keep him.
Ethel Wright is knitting baby booties for the second time.
Don Young gives dramatic lessons as an after-math of the Senior Play.
Cris Zabele is still just a typist; woe is me!

In order to promote smoother co-operation between the Councils a VVS Central Student Council was formed, consisting of the president, vice-- president and secretary of each of the three separate Councils. The Central Council is presided over alternately by the Presidents of the member councils.

Meeting every other Wednesday, the Central Council established a National Honor Society Chapter and the Sportsmanship Brotherhood at VVS. Other important matters were enacted also.

Connie Salm is the Verona president, Nick Vanderwall, at Vernon, and Cot Orton at Sherrill.

Approximately two dozen men reported for six-man football under Coach Callan and Cmaylo. The big trouble this year seemed to be in co-ordinating the attack, but in the opener at Holland Patent it seemed as if they had done it. Again and again they came from behind--eventually to win.

In the following games the team made a good showing, but couldn't find that last one or two points to win.

From the looks of this year's squad,next years' should be really great due to the fact that some of the boys needed only experience to assert themselves as the great players they are.

FOOTBALL

JV ELEVEN MAN

From the thirty-eight candidates appearing at the first practice, Coaches Clark and Halloran molded a strong hard-fighting squad which gave a good account of itself. During this first year of eleven-man football the squad proved itself to be very capable in building up a record of three victories and two losses. This squad composed entirely of Sophomores and Freshman is expected to provide the backbone of next year's eleven-man varsity team and should do a very fine job.

The Clinton game marked the start of a scoring spree for John Chamberlain who joined Pete Frank in leading the attack. VVS wound up the season with eight wins and nine defeats. They rang up 901 points while allowing their opponents 865.
